

GENERAL GUIDELINES

Harvard style does not have a specified format for a title page.

Unlike APA and MLA, Harvard does not require a running head nor does it specify where page numbers should be located.

NOTE: Page number/s should be included when direct quotations are lifted from the source material.

GUIDELINES FOR THE REFERENCES PAGE

In addition to citing sources within the text, Harvard requires a Reference List page. The following guidelines will help you to correctly format some of the most commonly used sources. For further information, consult the Anglia Ruskin University website <http://libweb.anglia.ac.uk/referencing/harvard.htm> for a complete guide to Harvard referencing.
